

A watercolor illustration of a garden scene. In the center, the text "ORGANIC Garden Journal" is written in a mix of black fonts. The background is filled with various botanical elements: a large purple tulip-like flower at the top left, a yellow and black striped bee with light blue wings in the upper middle, a pink daisy-like flower at the top right, a red mushroom with white spots at the bottom center, and several green and yellow leaves and stems with small blue and red berries scattered throughout. The style is soft and artistic, typical of watercolor painting.
